

“When I was 12, my mother gave birth to my younger twin brothers who also did not have a father. As my brothers got older they were enrolled into Head Start. Every day between school and work, I would spend time with them in their Head Start class. Working with my brothers inspired me to become a preschool teacher.”

*-Eric Martin Howell
Head Start preschool teacher since 2012*